

Writing Center Spring Semester 2019

Sunday	Monday	Tuesday	Wednesday	Thursday	Friday
	Bill Pore 1 – 4 pm		Bill Pore 1 – 4 pm		Bill Pore 1 – 3 pm
	Hannah Greer 1:30 – 3 pm	Noah Hastings 4:30 – 6 pm	Hannah Greer 1:30 – 3 pm	Noah Hastings 4:30 – 6 pm	Hannah Greer 1:30 – 3 pm
		Caroline Birt 9 – 11 pm		Caroline Birt 9 – 11 pm

Writing tutors provide writing assistance.
Located in the Collins Library; lower level;
Student Academic Success (SAS)

Sponsored by SAS
Contact: Bill Pore – wpore@bakeru.edu

Writing Center

Students using this service meet one-on-one with a peer tutor for additional feedback and consultation at any stage of the writing process. Peer tutor conferences are interactive, so students should come ready to discuss their own writing. Students and tutors work together to help strengthen writing skills, yet students remain responsible for producing their own work. Writing tutors are available for drop-in sessions during scheduled hours. Students may also make an appointment and submit work 24 hours in advance so that tutors can prepare to make the most effective use of meeting time.

Writing tutors will...

- Discuss ideas for new assignments
- Ask guiding questions to help students develop ideas
- Provide feedback on global issues such as focus, organization, logic, and clarity
- Discuss strategies for revising drafts
- Identify patterns of grammatical errors
- Model and provide examples of writing processes
- Refer students to additional writing resources
- Help students develop confidence in a personal writing process
- Help students polish their prose
- Talk about documentation conventions

Writing tutors will not...

- Correct errors for students
- Provide editing services
- Do homework for students
- Discuss or in any way guarantee potential assignment grades

Holidays/Finals/Interterm Schedule

Writing assistants are students, also, and will not keep regularly scheduled hours during holidays, final exams, and Interterm.

Contact: Bill Pore – bpore@bakeru.edu