

BSM 385

Assignment:

Act as a consultant to Paul Georgakis, the new media coordinator at the Museum of Springfield, who is trying to launch the museum's new website. Georgakis needs to balance the needs of the community, the museum, major museum donors, technology, and museum staff. Points to consider from the text include questions on power and power dynamics, leadership, personal goals, decision-making processes, and group solutions.

The screenshot shows the EBSCO Business Source Premier search interface. The search terms are "group decision making" and "leadership", both entered in separate search boxes. The field label for the first search box is "SU Subject Terms", which is circled in red. The field label for the second search box is also "SU Subject Terms", also circled in red. Below the search boxes, there are options for "Basic Search", "Advanced Search", "Visual Search", and "Search History".

- If you still get too many results, try limiting by relevance.

The screenshot shows the search results page for the query "SU group decision making AND SU leadership". The page displays 121 results. The first result is an Academic Journal article titled "Three steps to building a better top team." by Kruyt, Michiel; Malan, Judy; Tuffield, Rachel. McKinsey Quarterly, Issue 1. The article is about executive officers and group decision making. A dropdown menu is open, showing sorting options: "Relevance" (circled in red), "Date Descending", "Date Ascending", "Source", "Author", and "Relevance" (circled in red). A red arrow points to the "Relevance" option.

- If you need to limit further, try sliding the date bar to the right.
