Course Descriptions

Education Courses - Ongoing

EDU 5102 Assessment Strategies

This course expands awareness of multiple strategies for assessing the progress of students and increases abilities to utilize standardized tests for both formal and informal modes of assessment. Students design a project that outlines the use of varied modes of assessment. MAEd and MSSL Core Course (3 credits)

EDU 5121 Inquiry and Research

This course gives educators a simple, practical, believable way to conduct and interpret their research for the general betterment of both their instructional practices and the profession of teaching. MAEd and MSSL Core Course (3 credits)

EDU 5531 Today's Learner

This course explores the changing face of classroom students through current research on academic success. This course examines how classroom diversity has implications for curriculum, instruction, and school climate. Participants learn about building strengths in their classroom students, fostering resiliency, and creating supportive environments and relationships to encourage academic and social growth. MAEd and MSSL Core Course (3 credits)

EDU 5997 MAEd Portfolio

Each MAEd student seeking program completion must submit a professional portfolio that consists of course artifacts and reflections. The MAEd portfolio is a learning resume, documenting each student's personal growth and professional development and addressing program and course objectives and application of course content in PreK-12 classrooms. Students receive guidance on conceptualization and documentation for inclusion in the portfolio in EDU 6104, and an explanation of the MAEd portfolio is found on the Baker University's web site. Students enroll in the portfolio the term before the intended graduation, completing and submitting the portfolio to a Moodle shell.

EDU 6104 Foundations of Graduate Level Writing

Writing well is a component of many graduate course assignments. This course provides practical experience in writing and provides students with the necessary skills to succeed at graduate-level writing tasks. The course content covers prewriting, proofreading, peer- and self-editing, revision, reflection, and final results. "Writer's grammar" – sentence structure, word choice, and punctuation – is also explored. MAEd Core Course (Required in first 3 terms) (3 credits)

School Leadership Courses - Ongoing

* MSSL students can enroll in only one MAS course per term.

MAS 5010 Foundations of Educational Administration

This course includes a study of personal and educational leadership applicable to building-level administration at the elementary and secondary level. Participants develop the ability to transfer beliefs and values, leadership theories, and educational research into policy and best practice. Participants study a number of topics related to leadership and administration, including team and community building, time management, theories of motivation, communication practices, societal expectations, organizational change, and the process of achieving "win-win." Participants are introduced to the standards provided by the Interstate School leader Licensure Consortium (ISLLC) in preparation for the licensing examination later in the program. MSSL Core Course (This course must be completed prior to enrollment in any other school leadership course). (3 credits)

MAS 5020 Organizational Health and Performance

This course provides participants with leadership skills needed to manage, make decisions, and guide a healthy organization. Participants develop an understanding of organizational culture and climate characteristics important in a collaborative learning organization. Participants increase skills for using the technology needed to collect and analyze data for classroom enhancement. Prerequisite: MAS 5010. MSSL Core Course (3 credits)

MAS 5030 School Personnel

This course provides participants with the expertise to select, supervise, evaluate, empower, and provide development for school personnel. Participants study important constitutional, moral, legal, liability, ethical, and policy issues that relate to employment rights and practices. Participants enhance interpersonal skills that develop two-way communications with personnel. The course introduces the skills to maintain personnel records, develop policies and procedures handbooks, document personnel recommendations, and budget for personnel needs. Participants learn to use technology for personnel management and classroom enhancement. Prerequisite: MAS 5010. MSSL Core Course (3 credits)

MAS 5040 Curriculum and Instruction for Administrators

This course provides participants with the leadership skills to develop a building mission and vision relating to curriculum and instruction. Participants become knowledgeable about how to create curriculum and instruction consistent with the district's program and objectives. A variety of instructional strategies and models supported by research and best practices and a variety of methods and tools used to monitor and assess the curriculum are examined. Prerequisite: MAS 5010. MSSL Core Course (3 credits)

Course Descriptions

MAS 5050 Student Services, Climate, and Programs

This course is designed to provide students with the leadership skills necessary to create discipline practices and a school environment that maintains a safe, orderly, and student centered climate; provide for student governance, organizations, clubs, and co-curricular activities; provide for the many different needs of a diverse student population; and provide for student support services, including sponsors for activities, counseling, transportation, and food service. Participants develop an understanding of the processes and responsibilities of monitoring student activities, legal liability issues, due process procedures relating to suspension and expulsion, and disciplinary procedures. Prerequisite: MAS 5010. MSSL Core Course (3 credits)

MAS 5060 Legal and Ethical Issues of School Leadership

This course is designed to prepare aspiring building level leaders to address issues in the legal structure of public education and to become skilled in locating and using resources pertaining to changing laws and court decisions. Problems are presented for solutions that increase understanding of ethical issues facing school leaders. Prerequisite: MAS 5010. MSSL Core Course (3 credits)

MAS 5070 School Planning, Operations, and Finance

This course prepares building level leaders to manage the planning, maintenance, and support of the school for the best learning environment. Major topics include issues of financial policies and practices, budgeting, funds control and accountability, and school planning and operations. Legal issues to be considered in school operations and management are addressed. Prerequisite: MAS 5010. MSSL Core Course (3 credits)

The focus of the course is the examination of the Liberal Arts as acts of critical inquiry. Students become acquainted with classical ideas that lie behind much of the tradition of Western thought, as well as some modern approaches. Basics of reading, writing, and research are reviewed and students examine their daily world more deeply, in more detail, and in more complex ways. (3 credits)

Course Descriptions

LIT 5026 American Detective Novel

This course introduces participants to the rich range of American detective novels through some of the most significant and interesting works in the genre. Participants examine works by writers associated with one or the other of the two traditions – the private eye or the great detective. Contributions of African American writers and the influence of feminism on the genre are also examined. (3 credits)

LIT/GNS 6105 Gender Roles in Vampire Literature and Films

Students examine prominent 19th, 20th, and 21st century texts and films that explore the relationship between vampires and their victims. Students focus on the dimensions of why people—both fictional and real—are drawn to vampires and how vampires reflect social concerns relating to identity, violence, sexuality, gender roles, adolescence, ethnicity, and religious belief. (3 credits)

MGE 5012/EDU 5028 Leaders and Leadership

Students explore current leadership research and how its theory translates to our professional and personal lives. Topics include transactional versus transformational leadership, moral leadership, the idea of empowerment for all, and the theory of abundance mentality. (3 credits)

MSC 5060 Music and the Movies

Students develop an awareness of the functions of film music and learn about its prominent role in the cinema. Students survey film music from its silent film era origins to the present, including prominent and some lesser known film composers. (3 credits)

MSC 5405 History of Music in the Church

Students explore the history, function, and impact of Christian music, researching the historic musical traditions and worship practices of a variety of Christian congregations to compare and contrast basic musical structures and elements of worship style, pattern, and traditions. (3 credits)

PHL 5998 Special Topics: Lost and Philosophy

Students watch select episodes of the popular television series Lost and consider philosophical and psychological questions the show poses. How do people behave in a state of nature? Why are we here? Who are we and who are the “others”? To what extent do we really exercise free will? Are we all, in a sense, lost? Students read selections of works referenced in the show and consider how scholars through the ages have answered these questions. (3 credits)

PSY 5004 Human Sexuality

Students survey the contemporary research on Human Sexuality and related economic, legal, and social issues. Current issues and research are surveyed following an examination of the historical influences on contemporary sexuality. Students compare and contrast how sexuality impacts interpersonal relationships, reproductive issues, and social norms from a variety of perspectives. (3 credits)

SCI/PHL 5200 Science, Technology, and Ethics

Students explore the epistemological, ontological, and ethical questions raised by science and technology, including views of science and the different metaphysical views behind them, views of nature and human nature, and the different kinds of ethics that result from these competing epistemologies and ontologies. (3 credits)

SOC 5107 The Study of Food: From Pasture to Plate

Students study the global politics of food. What we eat, how we eat, when we eat, and how that food is produced impacts local, national, and international societies. Students examine those who raise, plant, nurture, cultivate, pick, pack, process, transport, inspect, sell, and cook the food that provides sustenance but also helps mold our identity. (3 credits)

SOC/GNS 5112 Minority and Majority Relationships

Students explore theoretical perspectives, concepts, and processes that impact group relations in society, examining how majority and minority group status are established by reviewing the historical and present day patterns of group relations in America and other nations of the world. Students will examine current events depicting majority/minority relations to apply to patterns of group relationships. (3 credits)

SOC 5134 Great Depression's Impact on Society

Students trace the highs following World War I to the depths of the Depression era, studying value changes and how they impacted society, institutions, and how the United States overcame the Depression. (3 credits)

SOC5998 Special Topics: Reality TV

Students study the genre and industry known as “reality television,” examining the concept of “real life” entertainment and the overlapping institutional, technological, ethical and cultural condition of society. (3 credits)

THR/FLM 5046 Social Issues in Theatre and Film

Students explore how a variety of social issues, including gender, race, the environment, sexual orientation, war, and politics, are reflected in plays and films. Students investigate selected works as both artistic creations and social commentaries. (3 credits)
